The Community Planning Association of Southwest Idaho (COMPASS) is an association of cities, counties, highway districts, and other government agencies who plan for the future of Ada and Canyon Counties.

COMPASS shapes the future of the region by developing the regional long-range transportation plan for the two-county area (Communities in Motion), facilitating regional cooperation, and directing where and how federal transportation funds will be spent in Ada and Canyon Counties. While COMPASS does not own buses or build roads, it is COMPASS' responsibility to ensure that when federal transportation dollars are spent in Ada and Canyon Counties, the projects benefit the region as a whole. Learn more about COMPASS at www.compassidaho.org.

The COMPASS Public Participation Workgroup (PPW) advises COMPASS staff on public participation and outreach activities, serves as a conduit for sharing information from COMPASS with Ada and Canyon County residents, and provides a forum for communication staff from COMPASS member agencies to share information, assist one another in public participation and outreach activities, collaborate on regional projects, and receive input on outreach activities from the general public and interested stakeholders. It is comprised of communication professionals from COMPASS member agencies, up to four members of the public, and one member of the news media.

The workgroup meets on an as-needed basis virtually or at the COMPASS office in downtown Meridian, generally three to five times per year. Meetings typically last two hours. Information on PPW and other COMPASS workgroups can be found at www.compassidaho.org/people/workgroups.htm. The PPW workgroup charter can be found on the same web page.

Persons interested in becoming a public or news media member of the COMPASS PPW are encouraged to review the workgroup charter (see link above) and contact COMPASS to schedule a meeting to discuss COMPASS and the PPW in more detail before submitting an application.

To apply for membership, please respond to the questions on the back of this page and return this application form to the address below. COMPASS will review your application in light of existing PPW membership needs. Vacant spots on the PPW are filled as they become available.
